

As an over the road tucker I enjoy the convenience of knowing what the traffic and weather is doing long before I enter a large city. It is invaluable for choosing the best route into and around a city.